House sale questioned

by Janice Harrington

The sale of the Habermehl house, owned by the town, has been questioned by some Didsbury residents.

Questions and concerns about the price accepted for the sale of the home were raised by a number of people at the Didsbury town council meeting held last Tuesday.

"I just have to question why this house was sold for the price it was when real estate professionals value it at much more," said George Anderson. "And I have to question why it wasn't put on the open market."

Anderson and others, including Don Habermehl who ran a home for the less fortunate out of the house with his wife, were upset that the house is to be sold for $45,000, a price tag they feel is far too little for the home considered by many as a historic site.

"I'm upset about the price it went for," Habermehl said. "When we got the letter saying we had to be out by September because the town wanted to sell the property, we had no problem with that, but had we known at the time it would sell for only $45,000 we would have offered to buy it ourselves."

The Habermehl house title was transferred to the town around 30 years ago. It had been run as lodging for the homeless by a board and then by Don Habermehl's parents when the board folded. Don continued running the home until this fall when the town decided to sell the property. But while many residents

A 'piping' good parade

The Olds Agricultural Society put on an outstanding parade last week to begin the events for the Mountain View County Fair. The Al Azar Shriners Highlands Band provided some of the musical entertainment during the 45 minute show. Other highlights included an appearance by the Calgary Stampede Queen, a mock wedding, mobile square dancing and crowds of colorful clowns.

Greyhound route to stay

by Elaine Wilson

A proposal by Greyhound Lines of Canada Ltd. to drop the morning run from the local schedule has been withdrawn.

Alberta Motor Services Division of Alberta Transportation said they recently received notification from Greyhound in Calgary that they were dropping their request to cut the daily morning route that travelled from Calgary to Red Deer, stopping in Carstairs, Didsbury and Olds. Motor Services was planning a public hearing into the proposed route cut after receiving numerous complaints from residents along the route.

A public meeting held July 14 in Didsbury also played a part in the government's decision to hold the public hearing. The meeting, in which Greyhound presented their cutback proposal, was attended by approximately 60 people who expressed objections, concerns and even anger over the proposal.

Greyhound's notification to withdraw the application for the cutback was received August 4.

Damian Opel, Director of Schedule Planning for Greyhound, said the decision to continue without altering the schedule is a trial measure.

Anders Karl is one of the Norwegian relatives and when he wrote to us last fall he said that his niece Gjertrud had been interviewed for the United World College Program and had hoped to attend Lester B. Pearson College in Victoria. But more kids qualified than there were places available and Gjertrud had not made the final cut and he said she was very disappointed because a years study in an English speaking school would have made a great difference in her future education. He also said that he now doubted that she would get the chance to study abroad because unless you are under a sponsored program or on a full scholarship only the very wealthy can afford to offer their children such an opportunity.

Ralph and I read the letter again and an idea began to take root. We couldn't offer her World College but if she could come to us for the summer we could help her with her English and see that she saw something of Alberta at least. One of our nieces was going to Trollhaugen Culture Camp, maybe Gjertrud would like to go with Kate and meet some Norwegian-Canadian kids that way. Our son and daughter-in-law said they would take her camping and shopping, other relatives offered weekend entertainment. Summers on the farm are pretty hectic so we knew that we wouldn't be able to take a lot of time to entertain her but surely we could manage a day at the Tyrell, maybe a hike in the mountains and a couple of local fairs.

When my friend Betsy stopped in for coffee I mentioned our plan to her. "Why not bring her in for the whole school year under the Foreign Student Exchange Program," Betsy suggested. "Donna Maynes has a Mexican girl staying with her and going to school in Cremona and she will know what the possibilities and processes are." I phoned Donna Maynes. Donna was enthusiastic and helpful. I called Shirley Van Eaton the Superintendent of Schools and Dianne Davies our County Councillor and I went to see Elvina Petkau, the principal of the school. Everyone was supportive, nobody discouraged us. Finally I wrote to Gjertrud and her parents. We suggested that if she were coming she come early so that she could see Alberta in summer.

And so at this very moment Gjertrud is picking gooseberries at the end of our garden. Next week she will go to camp with her newfound cousin Kate and while she is there she will teach Norwegian song-dance to the juniors and language to the intermediates. Our lodge has offered to sponsor her camp fees, my mom has adopted her as a new granddaughter and offered to buy her a pair of blue jeans, the dog has become her faithful fan and the cat has already figured out that Gjertrud responds more quickly to his demands than I do. Her Norwegian folk costume (bunad) is hanging in the closet of the new room downstairs and she will wear it when she shares her culture with her new Canadian friends in Cremona and when she helps us at Sons of Norway Lodge functions. She laughs kindly at my Gro Harlem Brundtland imitation and not so kindly at my efforts to speak Norwegian. After ten years of being empty-nesters we are a little unsure about parenting a teenager but it will be interesting to be part of school activities again and Gjertrud (who may become Trudy while she is in Canada) will undoubtedly become an important part of our lives.

We feel very lucky to have this opportunity to broaden our horizons and we sincerely hope that Gjertrud enjoys her year here with us. The only real downside is that we already know we are going to miss her when she goes home next July.

Town Council notes

by Janice Harrington

An appeal has been launched against the development permit for the new curling rink.

Town Administrator Mike Storey told town council Joyce Mullen, on behalf of the Didsbury Scouts had filed an appeal on the permit issued to the Didsbury Agri Sportsplex Building Committee.

Construction of the new curling rink on the northwest side of the arena necessitates the removal of the old scout hall located beside the cenotaph. Plans had been underway to take the building apart when the appeal was filed.

"But I believe if we give them time there won't be a need for a development appeal board," Storey said.

Storey said he believed the Scouts want more time to have the hall moved.

Construction of the Didsbury Lions' recycling building is progressing quickly according to Didsbury Mayor Ray Lea.

Construction of the building had been delayed because of the wet weather.

The roof and soffits are now being put on by Didsbury Eavestrough.

No completion date on the building has been set.

Didsbury FCSS has been given the green light to investigate the possibility of moving its administrative office.

Currently housed in the town office, FCSS made the request to undertake a feasibility study because of the stigma of being inside the municipal office.

"I guess (the FCSS) feel that because people have to walk through the town office, the programs maybe aren't being used as much as they might be," said Councillor Dan Peters, council representative on the FCSS board.

In a letter to council, the FCSS board said having a separate location would solve the intimidation problem plus increase FCSS visibility in Didsbury. The separate location would also allow FCSS funded groups to use one facility, minimizing rent costs for the board.

But while council agreed to the feasibility study, they stressed their feeling that a move would likely be rejected.

"So I guess we say yes now and say no later," said Councillor Gayle Veno. "I'm happy with the motion (agreeing to the feasibility study) now, I'm just concerned with the motion I know is going to come after."

Council will discuss allowing further investigation into streamlining town operations at their next meeting.

Administrators in the Economic Development, Recreation and FCSS departments forwarded a proposal to council for developing a multi-level planning process for all town operations.

In a proposal to council, the administrators said they began to look into planning because of the new council's concerns over fragmented and reactive planning practices generally used by town departments.

Councillor Dan Peters said the idea to begin the process came about during a Tourism and Economic Development Board meeting.

"It all came about from trying to find a camp stove in the campground," said Peters. "The idea is to give administration a better idea of department re-felt the price the house will sell for is about half market value, council said they believed they got a fair price.

"The offer to purchase the house was made sight unseen," said Councillor Gayle Veno. "We didn't want to open it up because we were afraid if people looked at it, no one would want to buy it."

Didsbury Mayor Ray Lea said the offer was also accepted because of the guarantee made by the purchasers to restore the home to its original condition, dated at 1911.

"There's a lot of work that needs to go into that house and the people who are going to buy the house are already working on restoring another," Lea said. "That will help in bringing tourism to town."

Closing of the sale has yet to take place, but the offer to purchase the property has been accepted.

Stabbing marks fair opening

by Janice Harrington

A stabbing incident marked the opening of the Mountain View County Fair held last week in Olds.

Robert William Miller, age 28, of Edmonton, was admitted to hospital early Thursday morning after suffering extensive stab wounds.

Olds RCMP said the incident occurred at the Olds fairgrounds just before 6 a.m. Police investigation revealed an argument had allegedly broken out between two employees of Westcoast Amusements Ltd. of Langley, B.C., the company responsible for the set up and operations of the midway rides at the County fair.

Miller was stabbed six times with a small knife as a result of the alleged argument. His injuries are considered serious but not life threatening.

RCMP said charges are pending against 27-year-old Michel Roland Prevost of no fixed address.

Accident not alcohol related

by Janice Harrington

An accident which sent an 18-year-old to hospital last week is not believed to have been caused by alcohol.

Olds RCMP said the accident, which happened on Highway 27 near Olds last Wednesday was likely not caused by impaired driving, but are continuing to investigate.

Benjamin Usciski of Penhold was sent to the Olds Hospital after he lost control of his Chev S10 pickup truck while travelling eastbound on Highway 27 near the Olds overpass on Highway 2.

Usciski suffered undetermined injuries in the accident. No other vehicles were involved.

Didsbury want to keep that morning service they're going to have to use it," he said. "We're taking a wait and see approach. We're hoping that this thing will settle down and people will use it because that's best for everybody."

Opel noted that government controls on bus lines could soon be a thing of the past due to financial cutbacks. Service and routing changes would inevitably follow.

"In a deregulated environment we wouldn't even be having this conversation," Opel said.

Greyhound representatives will be monitoring passenger usage of the morning run and will be making a final decision on the cutback in the year.

Construction continuing

Work is progressing on the Didsbury Lions' recycling centre being built beside the town shop. Keith Krebs and Scott Morrish of Didsbury Eavestrough are busy putting up the roof, siding and soffits for the centre which will soon house equipment to help in the recycling of newspaper, plastics and glass.

sponsibilities."

Council did not give immediate approval for the administrators to continue work on the long term planning project, but rather tabled the matter until their next meeting.

"We really need some time to think about this," said Councillor Gayle Veno. "We have to make sure nobody's toes get stepped on."

The dog catcher will be roaming the streets of Didsbury again now that a new contract for animal control has been signed by town council.

Carol's Canine Control will again take over enforcement of the town's animal control by-law.

Council had previously dropped the contract due to budgetary concerns but found revenue dropped because by-law infractions were being handled by complaint only.

Town administrator Mike Storey said the number of complaints of loose dogs over the past 2 to 3 months has also risen steeply.

Under the new contract, the dog catcher will be paid $400 a month to work 6 hours per week. A $6.50 per day impound fee will also be charged as well as $25 for each dog put down. Storey said with the new contract, dog licensing will be reviewed and automatic fines of $75 will be levied against dog owners who haven't renewed their licences from 1991/92.

A request for more land from the Didsbury Lawn Bowling Club has been sent to the Recreation Board for recommendation.

In a letter to council, Murray McRae, President of the club, said the club membership was interested in developing an indoor lawn bowling program which required a lengthy extension of the club's present club house.

"With the construction of a parking lot at the Recreational Centre having taken over the ball diamond adjacent to the lawn bowling greens; the Didsbury and District Lawn Bowling Club would appreciate consideration of the area directly south of the club house being retained for future use of the club," the letter stated.

The request will be researched by the rec. board.

Good and bad

Congratulations to town department administrators who have finally taken up the gauntlet and are working towards developing some long range planning for the town of Didsbury and its various departments.

For a long time Didsbury has operated on a reactive rather than proactive basis. Changes, planning and spending nearly always occurred as incidents arose rather than on any type of schedule or plan.

All business people will tell you a successful business needs to now where it should be going, it needs to have goals. Even simple household finances operate more successfully when they are goal orientated. A town can follow the same principles for spending and plan for a future with few tax increases rather than just simply saying no to any new idea which may cost the town some money.

Unfortunately, that is the way this council is reacting to any new ideas that come across their table. A request for investigation into the feasibility of housing the FCSS in a separate building may be dead before it can even start because of the council's fixation on budgetary restraint. Strangely enough, this is the same council which spent thousands of dollars at the beginning of their term for newer equipment - as a long range investment. Now many are reacting with such tight pockets, there is a possibility that good long range ideas may be shut down before their value can be realized.

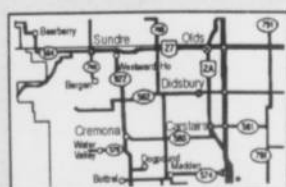

The majority of members of this council ran an election campaign stating their belief in the need for long term planning. They argued the need to create a better working relationship between municipal departments. Now they seem to only wish to follow that argument up if it doesn't cost anything over the short term. That kind of thinking will only take the town down the same path of piece meal planning and last minute scrambling. Many of the departments under council have worked out long range plans for themselves; it's time council worked along the same principles. It may be more work for them, but that's what they're paid to do.

Quote of the week:

"If you talk to all the government pilots they all say the same thing, that it's the best in the province. They really have to be commended, the place is just like a park."

Town Councillor Ed Vermunt talking about the Olds/Didsbury Airport and members of the commission that run it, at the last town council meeting.

Tree pollen concerns

Dear Editor:

We will call this an open letter to the Public Works Councillors Ed Vermunt, Rod Collinge and Dan Peters, and to all concerned rate payers.

Tell me councillors, how much effort did you put into your final decision to do something about these female poplars that are making some of us sick? Must we leave Didsbury for 6 weeks or so, every year to escape the allergy the tree fuzz gives us, or maybe you think we should walk around town wearing Scott Air Packs? Was it because you only received the one complaint from me and decided to ignore me? Did you poll the merchants in town to find out how they liked the fluff coming into the stores every time the doors are opened? How would you like to pick the fluff off the merchandise? Did you post a notice in the paper to see if there were any concerns from other people? Did you ask local health clinics if there were more complaints than normal, of all allergies? Did you check with the province if there is a law against planting those trees (Last Councillor told me there was)? The one councillor's statement that, "the trees are about ready to die anyway", is a lot of crock. I have been told that the park on Westhill has female poplars as does the strip of land just west of 23rd Street. I understand that this is town property.

Also, can you tell me, did Mike Storey tell you to ignore my letter because I'm a chronic complainer? His normal reply to anything that he doesn't want to work on is, "We're working on it," "It's under review," or "It's too difficult to implement."

Now to all the rate payers. If you want action on the tree fluff, then take a pen and paper in hand and write a short letter to the councillors concerned. Say you would like something done. If you do not, don't ever complain, and plan on putting up with the tree fluff until you go to your grave.

Action against violence

Dear Editor:

On Thursday, July 29, 1993, the Canadian panel of Violence Against Women released its findings in a 460 page report. I feel that this is an important issue, and I would like to inform you about some aspects of the report. The panel commented on the high incidence of violence in this country. It made 494 recommendations to achieve a goal of zero tolerance of violence against women and essentially asked for a commitment from every person, business and institution in Canada to actively participate in ending violence directed at women.

Minister Mary Collins, who is responsible for the Status of Women, is attempting to encourage the process of change. She has indicated that her department would begin work immediately on the panel's recommendations and will be discussing proposals with her provincial and territorial colleagues.

To date, we have been attempting to reduce the violence against women by promoting some common sense ideas. For example, over the past few months the federal government has introduced legislation to make the stalking of a person, or the family and friends of that person, a crime. Furthermore, there is a proposal to keep dangerous offenders behind bars indefinitely. The affect of these initiatives will hopefully change long-term attitudes on violence.

A Christian view on NAFTA

Dear Editor:

Ralph Nader, a consumer advocate who is well known throughout North America for his good work on behalf of consumers, is greatly concerned about the proposed North American Free Trade Agreement (N.A.F.T.A.) which former Prime Minister Brian Mulroney's Conservative majority government recently pushed through parliament before the next federal election.

Ralph Nader urges Canadians to reject the agreement involving Canada, the U.S.A., and Mexico because he sees that NAFTA is part of a global corporation strategy (one economy for the whole world) that will push living standards in both Canada and the U.S.A. down to the Mexican standard of living rather than raising the Mexican standard of living up to the level of Canadians and Americans.

Mr. Nader's knowledge, experience, concern and courage are considerable enough to truly warrant our confidence. His suspicion that NAFTA is part of a global corporation strategy is supported by the haste and determination of the government to push it through parliament even before what we already have, namely the free trade agreement between Canada and the United States, has been sufficiently evaluated.

Mr. Nader's suspicion is further supported by the recent news that the United States wants to expand NAFTA to include the Asian countries (i.e. the Association of Southeast Asian Nations).

Meanwhile, the European Economic Community has clearly rejected Denmark's NO vote of last year to the Maastricht Treaty and manoeuvred a new vote held recently -- with a YES response that resulted in bloody street rioting in Copenhagen in which many injuries and some deaths occurred. Nevertheless England's Prime Minister John Major then announced that because of Denmark's YES vote it will now be easier for him to force passage of the Maastricht Treaty through the British parliament!

So folks, you see the push towards one economy for the whole world! The New World Order movement is moving ahead -- whether we like it or not. One government -- one economy -- one "religion" (the so-called World Church) for the whole world will soon be here, -- with the anti-Christ (false Messiah) probably Juan Carlos 1st of Spain heading it up. His first act will be to bring "peace" between Israel and her Arab enemies! His "solution" to problems will eventually backfire, however. He and his forces will be defeated by Jesus Christ the True Messiah in the Battle of Armageddon (1999?) Then and only then will true and lasting peace and prosperity come to the whole world as Jesus reigns from Jerusalem as King of kings. Let's repent and live righteously so we can anticipate His coming with joy not fear.

Speaking up on postal boundaries

Dear Editor:

This letter is in regard to the notice given from Canada Post that due to boundaries set by Canada Post certain rural residents are required to pay for their present mail boxes or move their address to the designated area given by Canada Post.

Let it be understood that the understanding in Canada is a democratic country -- where is it said when someone is told to pay or receive their mail through another outlet; that is the democratic way? What makes Canada Post Corporation the experts on what is best for our households?

Everyone has a genuine reason for choosing the particular mode of receiving their mail. Whether it is being that that particular town is where they do all their business, or maybe they work there every day, or maybe it is a place not out of their way to travel to their place of business, etc. Most people have had their post office boxes for a period of time; some have had possession for as many as 60 years. And now they are told to change their addresses -- not asked if they mind changing but rather told, or pay the price. If Gen. Del. is requested the cost of this service is $50.

A number of places where people are told to move to do not have enough boxes to accommodate the extras being sent there by Canada Post, leaving Gen. Del. -- What kind of convenience is this? For whom? -- What happened to our democratic country -- to freedom of choice? Rural Canadians are ordered to pay the price or lose their boxes.

If they can deliver mail to Canadians in the city from house to house for free, why are rural Canadians being told to pay for the same service? If the rural Canadians are willing to go to a destination to pick up their mail at no cost to Canada Post (to deliver directly to our homes) what skin is it off Canada Post's nose? Why should there be any boundaries in the first place? Why should rural Canadians have to change their address on land titles, power bills, AGT bills, etc.?

We rural Canadians have been sending complaints to Canada Post since 1991 and continually get the same reply -- there is no way Canada Post can let the boundaries drop. If you wish to do things best suited to your household -- pay the price. Too bad that is our only mode of postal services, they feel rural Canadians hands are tied.

We are appealing to you the people as fellow Canadians who live in a democratic country to give us rural Canadians a helping hand in letting Canada Post Corporation know that this is not democratic and rectify the situation by not imposing boundaries at all. Please let your local government, Canada Post and the rest of Canada know we still have a democratic country. Should you wish to know what our area is doing to fight the cause or let us know how you are solving the problem in your area, sent to: Box 1315, Fairview, Alberta T0H 1L0.

Thank you,
Bridget Cray

Petition for stricter gun control

Dear Editor:

The tragic and senseless events of 24 August 1992 at Concordia University have left us with a terrible feeling of bewilderment, sadness and loss. Concordia, the entire Canadian university community and, indeed, Canadian society have experienced a shock. The killing of four colleagues and wounding of another by an individual armed with three legally acquired and easily concealed handguns will remain with us for some time.

This tragedy, and the increasing number of violent, gun-related, incidents in Canada, show us that we must tell our leaders that the risks to society associated with the possession of guns far outweigh any potential benefits deriving from their possession. We must demand the prohibition of certain very dangerous and unjustifiable firearms, such as handguns and military assault weapons, and strict controls on all firearms.

Concordia University has been advocating stronger gun control and supporting the activities of the Coalition for Gun Control for a number of years. It is now time for us, as Canadians, to take a stronger stand on this important issue and show that we take our responsibilities as free citizens seriously. This is especially true given the overwhelming support of individual Canadians for stronger gun control. There is a role of social responsibility for institutions entrusted with educating the public and it is a role that your journal and this University share.

As a result we are circulating a petition, addressed to the Parliament of Canada. It advocates a total prohibition of handguns in this country, with the exception of those required by Law Enforcement Officers and members of the Canadian Armed Forces necessary in the performance of their duties. The goal of this petition is immediate, specific, unequivocal and achievable.

In addition to the one hundred fifty thousand Canadians who have already signed, this petition enjoys the support of the Canada Safety Council, the Canadian Bar Association, the Montreal Urban Community Police, the Public Service Alliance of Canada, the majority of Canadian universities and almost one hundred other Canadian institutions, including churches, hospitals, schools, unions, cultural and other associations.

We would ask your support and those of your readers in presenting this petition to Parliament. If you would like any further information about the petition, please contact my Assistant, Hugh Wm. Brodie at (514) 848-4845.

Yours sincerely,
Patrick Kenniff
Rector and Vice-Chancellor

From the council table

Sorry for the delay in a report from the Council. It has been a very busy time at work and not much to report from Council. We will try to update on the happenings of the past few months.

Effective August 1, 1993, the town has a dog catcher. With the numerous complaints, regarding dogs, running at large, Council has accepted an offer from Carol's Canine Control for enforcement of the dog control by-law. Carol Coles has provided this service to Didsbury before and has done an excellent job, so dog owners, beware, that your dog is not running at large or creating a neighborhood problem by incessant barking.

As reported in previous issues of the newspaper - Council was presented a proposal from C.N. Howie regarding female poplar trees and the fuzz problem they create every year. The matter was referred to the Public Works Committee for feasibility study. The Public Works Committee reported back to Council that although we could prevent any more of these trees being planted by a by-law the removal of the present trees would be expensive and difficult. The trees on town land could be removed at an expense to the taxpayer, but is quite hard to force a landowner to remove a tree from his/her private property if they do not wish to do so. Based on this, Council felt they could not pursue this request at this time.

Council recently met with delegates of taxpayers regarding two public hearings. The first public hearing was in regards to the closure of a lane at 12th Avenue and 22nd Street. The lane is being used as a thoroughfare and causing problems. A taxpayer who is a regular user of the lane objected to the lane being closed off because it allowed him better access to his front property. After careful consideration, Council felt the use of the lane was not for public traffic but for garbage pickup and rear entry to local taxpayer's property and decided to proceed with the closure by-law.

The second public hearing was in regard to the rezoning of a subdivision proposal for property south of 12th Street and 23rd Avenue. Although the delegations had no objections to the rezoning of the property from R2 to R1, they did have some questions regarding the subdivision. Their concerns were increased traffic on 22 St. and 12th Ave., the view of the rear yards as you drive along 23rd Avenue and what would be done to 12th Street as it is already in bad condition. Mayor Ray Lea thanked everyone for coming and presenting their concerns. He requested that they put these concerns in writing so that they could be looked at when the Town negotiates the development agreement with Columbia Rail. Maybe not all of the concerns could be dealt with, but some of them could.

Council has accepted an offer to purchase the Habermehl property. The house and 74 feet of the lot has been sold for $45,000; the other 26 feet has been sold for $8,500. Everyone has been aware that this house would be vacant as of September 1, 1993. The offer made was sight unseen and a guarantee that the house would be restored to its original state. This plus the fact that the town would not have to do any preliminary major repairs was a factor to consider. Not even members of Council knew what state the interior was in, except for reports from Mr. Habermehl, who said that quite a few things would need to be done. Council feels that they acted in the best interest of the town, which they were elected to do. The funds will be used to help keep taxes down in 1994.

That's all to report this time.

AGRICULTURE

Local excels at 4-H beef show

4-H Beef members from across the province gathered in Bashaw, Alberta for three days in July to celebrate their breeding projects.

A record 167 4-H members took part in the 17th Annual Provincial 4-H Beef Heifer Show. Henry Wiegman, Provincial 4-H Agriculture Specialist, reports that "There were representatives from 56 clubs, nearly one third of all beef clubs in Alberta. Even though we were plagued by rain for the second straight year, the energy and excitement of the 4-H members and the spectators was not dampened."

Some local 4-H members were in attendance at the 1993 program, and one came away in the winners' circle. Eagle Multi's Tracy Gardner was declared the Top Overall Judge in the judging competition by besting over 150 beef club members from around Alberta. In addition to this tremendous win, Gardner also won the award for Top Overall Reasons and Top Individual Intermediate Judge.

The 4-Her from Olds did not limit her winnings to the judging competition, however. Gardner earned an Honourable Mention in Intermediate Showmanship, the largest division in this award category at the show. Gardner's two-year-old-with-calf won the title Reserve Grand Champion Other Purebred with

The Provincial 4-H Beef Heifer Show is jointly sponsored by the Alberta Treasury Branches and the Bashaw Agriculture Society.

Reserve Grand Champion

Tracy Gardner from the Eagle Beef club won Reserve Grand Champion in the purebred category for her 2-year-old with calf at the provincial 4H beef heifer show. Gardner also took home top prizes for judging.

Local lessons

Members of local 4H clubs attended a recent Alberta 4H Conservation camp. Tracy Gardner from Eagle Beef and Eric Harvie from West Didsbury Beef learned about water conservation and environmental protection along with other conservation methods.

One killed in motorcycle accident

by Janice Harrington

An Abbotsford man is dead after a motorcycle accident near Sundre over the weekend.

Jaycen Kehler, 21, of Abbotsford, B.C., was pronounced dead at the scene after a motorcycle he was travelling on was struck by a welding truck on Highway 22 north of Sundre last Saturday.

Sundre RCMP said Kehler was travelling on the motorcycle, driven by Peter Devries, age 19, of Victoria, B.C. when they were struck by the truck driven by Rocky Simpson, age 41, of Sundre. RCMP said Devries had been travelling southbound on the highway when he pulled a u-turn directly in front of the truck.

Devries was taken to the Sundre Hospital and later to a Calgary hospital by STARS air ambulance. He is listed in serious but stable condition.

The driver of the truck was not injured.

RCMP said the investigation into the accident is continuing.

Driver escapes injury in car fire

by Elaine Wilson

The driver of a vehicle which caught on fire five miles north of Olds on Highway 2 early Sunday evening managed to escape without injury.

Cpl. Moritz of the Innisfail

R.C.M.P. detachment said the driver noticed smoke coming from under the hood and pulled over to the side of the road before the car erupted in flames. A passerby reported the incident and the Olds Fire Department and Innisfail R.C.M.P. responded.

Moritz said the driver managed to retrieve all belongings from the vehicle before the fire consumed the 1986 Olds Cutlass which was totally destroyed in the blaze.

Traffic was disrupted for a short period of time as cars were rerouted around the area.

History personified

One of Alberta's best known historians and conservationists was on hand to act as parade marshal at the Mountain View County Fair last week. Grant MacEwan, who has written several books on Alberta helped to kick off the festivities at the weekend fair.

Attempted robbery arrest

by Janice Harrington

An Olds man has been arrested after an attempted robbery near the Olds Hotel.

Jerry Dale O'Bray, age 32, was arrested by Olds RCMP after a call was made to the detachment about a robbery in progress around 3 am last Saturday.

RCMP said a mother and son were returning to their car when they were accosted by a man who told them he had a weapon. A struggle ensued and RCMP arrested O'Bray at the scene.

O'Bray was charged with assault with the intent to steal. He is to appear in Olds Provincial Court on August 19.

CREMONA / WATER VALLEY

An affordable frontier

Rise early this coming Saturday to the aroma of fresh pancakes, hashbrowns and ham to help kick off a festive start to this year's "Frontier Days" celebration in Madden.

Madden is located about 12 miles west of Crossfield on the hard top road - a short drive for a good time according to Frontier Days Committee Member Estelle Dodd.

"There's just so much to do once you get down here. We're all really looking forward to holding it again," says Dodd, a veteran volunteer who has helped organize the details of the event for most of its 10-year history.

Immediately following the pancake breakfast at the Madden Community Centre will be the Frontier Days Trail Ride. Area resident Cecil Lynn will escort his equine excursion down the scenic coulee along a hearty procession of sun ripened crops before heading back to the centre in time for riders to catch the rest of the day's highlights.

And catches there will be...baseball style that is! Sixteen teams in all are expected to battle it out in typical tournament tradition.

"Something kind of fun we have going on the ball diamonds between games this year are our 'Biffy Races'," Estelle explains. "That's when we put an actual biffy on wheels and have one person riding in the pot while four others push it to the finish line. It sounds crazy, but it's going to be a lot of fun."

Of course children are a big part of any celebration, and Frontier Days is no exception. A pet show, prize races, play-

Construction delayed

Work on the Cremona school gymnasium has been delayed due to the discovery of a soil contaminant remaining from the time when the building had been heated with diesel fuel. A plan to meet environmental and health standards is nearing completion for approval so that excavation can proceed and full construction can continue. During the gym delay, work has progressed in other areas of the school. At the present time, it is obvious that previous timelines will be affected, but until more detailed information is available, it is not possible to determine the extent or impact of the delay.

At this time, administration is not expecting school opening to be affected.

Roulston Museum news

Portable memories - The Glenbow Museum is coming to Carstairs through a special loan of artifacts which will be on view in the Roulston Museum. The display features turn of the century cameras and camera equipment and will be on view August through October.

In 1888, while George Eastman was head of the Eastman Dry Plate and Film Co., he introduced the Kodak camera with the idea of making money by selling film, not cameras. To encourage consumers to take pictures, he developed cameras that were small, compact, easy to use and affordable. Kodak cameras proved to be a big success with the public and some of these early models are on view in the display, including the Pocket Kodak Junior Camera, the Cartridge Kodak Camera and a Brownie camera.

This display can be viewed Monday through Saturday from 1:00 to 4:00 p.m. The Roulston Museum has extended its summer hours due to popular demand!

New also at the museum is the Doll Display circa 1920 and our four mannequins which are wearing clothing dating from 1830 to 1920.

For more information, please call The Roulston Museum at 337-3710.

Coffee break

Anne MacCauley, Enith Hunsperger, Laura Halpin and Eva Blain take a coffee break at their home in the Chinook Winds Lodge at Carstairs. The afternoon coffee group is a usual occurrence for friends at the lodge especially after spending a pleasant morning out. BUSINESS

Acceptance growing

by Janice Harrington

Opening up an alternative therapy clinic in Didsbury may have been a risk, but it is paying off for a local massage therapist.

Joyce Bayfield opened the doors of NESA Therapy 1½ years ago in partnership with former Didsbury Chiropractor Dr. Robert Brodeur. Since that time, her clientele has grown dramatically to include patients from 10-years to 80-years-old.

"The clientele has really expanded," Bayfield said. "I'm getting more and more referrals from the chiropractors and from word of mouth from my other clients."

Along with greater acceptance of massage as a therapeutic treatment by patients, Bayfield said acceptance is even growing in the medical community.

"The doctors around here have been great with referrals," she said. "Especially with car accident patients."

Currently Bayfield operates NESA (which stands for deep muscle massage) from the Didsbury Chiropractic Clinic, an arrangement she finds very satisfying.

"The two therapies work very well together," she said. "We can treat anything from sports injuries to different kinds of back pathologies. And I have a great working relationship with (Drs.) Dave and Kirsten (Phillips)."

On a professional level, Bayfield is also very pleased with changes that have been occurring. Trained at Mount Royal College and constantly updating her training, Bayfield said she agrees with the increased hours of training needed before therapists can begin practise.

"It goes along way towards increasing the professionalism," she said. "We are being more and more accepted from a broader range all the way around."

In the future, Bayfield said she would like to expand her practise to include a hydrotherapy program and to perhaps bring in another massage therapist, but for now she remains busy trying to keep up with the demand.

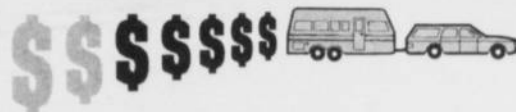

Therapeutic profession

Joyce Bayfield has found her massage therapy business growing dramatically as more and more people accept the value of alternative treatment programs. Bayfield, who works in conjunction with the Didsbury Chiropractic Clinic, treats an assortment of ailments from sports injuries to poor circulation.

"Right now I'm really busy, working 4½ days a week and taking more training," she said. "And there's the thought of space and money. Going into debt at this point can be pretty frightening."

LOGAN

Edward Logan passed away suddenly on August 3, 1993 in Didsbury. Mr. Logan was predeceased by his loving wife, Agnes, in 1974.

Mr. Logan was born in Magilligan County, Londonderry, Northern Ireland in 1903. He emigrated to Canada in the 1920's and spent a number of years logging and farming in Ontario and Manitoba before settling in Winnipeg and joining the T. Eaton Co. He worked as a carpenter with them prior to W.W. II. Mr. Logan served overseas with the 12th Field Company R.C.E. from 1939-1945. He then returned to Eaton's and worked at Hargrave Door for many years. He was a member of Eaton's Quarter Century Club. He took an early retirement in 1962 and farmed in Gonor, Manitoba prior to returning to his native Ulster in 1966. He resided there for eight years before returning to Canada. He spent his later years in Didsbury where he pursued his main interests of gardening and wood-working.

He is survived by his son, Rodger and his wife, Marilyn; two grandchildren, Chris and Stephanie Reid, and by several relatives in the United Kingdom and United States.

Funeral Mass was held Friday, August 6, 1993 at 2 p.m. from St. Anthony's Catholic Church in Didsbury with Father Vic Perron celebrant. Interment followed in the Didsbury Cemetery.

Pallbearers were Brian Banfield, Dick Forth, Bernie Kaupp, Al Gngrich, Geoff Nathan-Simons and Chris Whittaker.

Slo pitch team wins national title

by Elaine Wilson

The Harmattan Hurricanes Slow Pitch Team arrived home from London Ontario August 3 after earning the Canadian title in the National Men's D Slow Pitch tournament.

The Hurricanes have been around for over a decade, but decided as a team to pursue the sport more seriously about four years ago. Co-managed by Dave Turnbull and Brian Gardner, they have been steadily notching up successes.

Three years ago they took fourth place at the national championships held in Calgary which the team considered "an incredible feat", according to Turnbull. Last year they continued their winning ways, taking the provincial title in Sherwood Park. This time out they took the national title in 8 straight games playing the entire tournament undefeated.

"We had a whole year to plan for this," Turnbull said, adding that the team did a lot of fund raising in order to make it possible for all team members to attend the meet in Ontario. Next year the national championships will be held in Calgary which will ease the financial strain. Next year they will be facing a new slate of teams, having qualified to move up a level to 'C Provincials'.

Although the players took time out to celebrate their win in Ontario, they plan to get together one last time before the end of the summer.

"I can tell you we had a very good flight home," Turnbull said. "We're all going to get settled back in for a little bit. We've got a lot of farmers on our team that are busy hayting. We're all going to get together later in August."

Everyone played well, but Terry Towns was a stand out, capturing the most valuable player crown at the tournament.

"The whole team played very solid defense," Turnbull said, "but Terry is a very good hitter and he was very consistent."

Turnbull said the team enjoyed meeting other players from across Canada and everyone enjoyed the experience immensely.

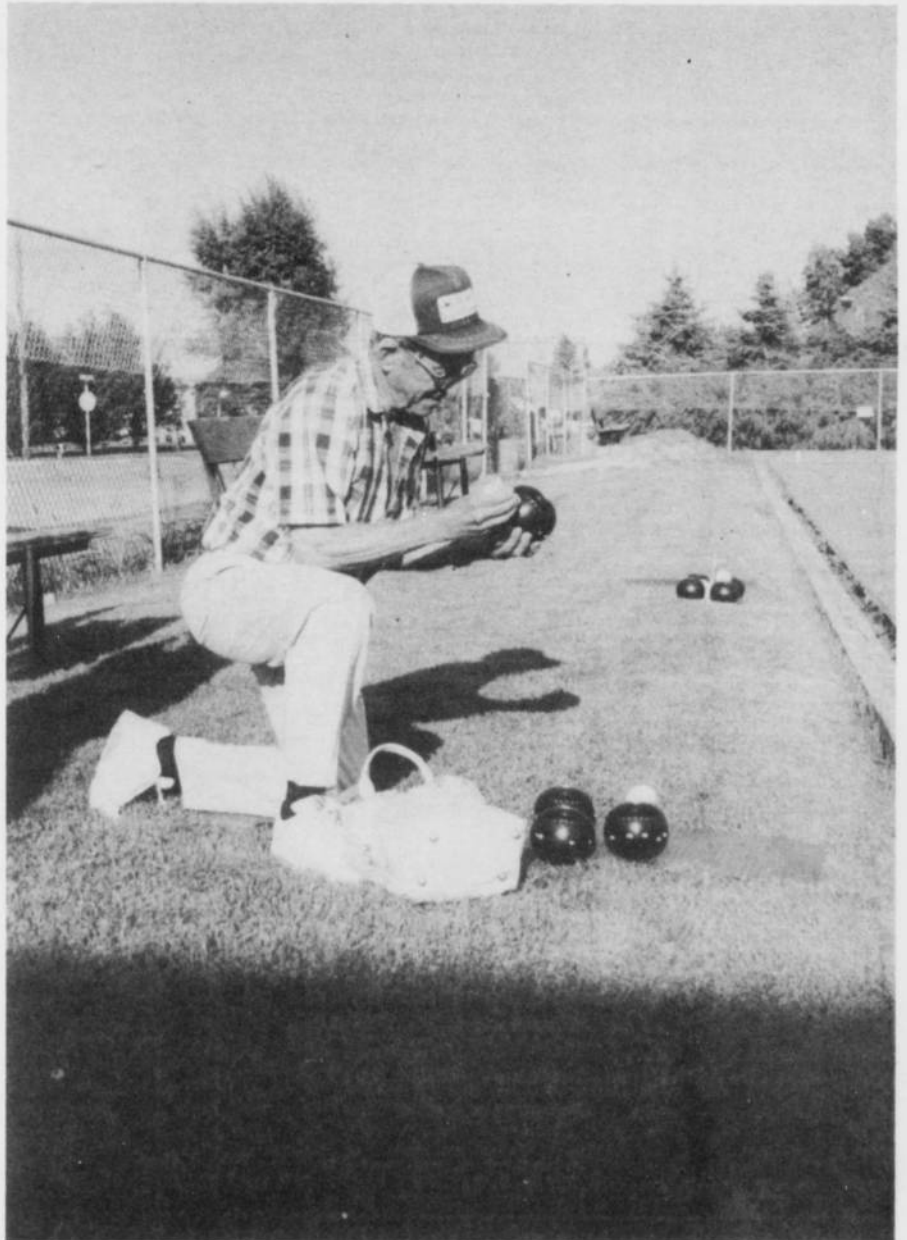

"The comradery was incredible. We went down there with fifteen players, and ten wives went as well, so there was quite a contingent from Olds there. In the final game we were playing one of the favorites, a team from Toronto, and it ended up that three or four teams in the tournament were cheering for us. That made us feel good, in addition to the win."

The fifteen 1993 slow pitch champions are: Dave Turnbull, Brian Gardner, Gary Turnbull, Gord Miller, Norm Conrad, Murray Urlacher, Steve Dougan, Chris Funkhouser, Ray Miller, Peter Dichrow, Kevin

Christofferson, Travis Miller, Garrett Dichrow, Garrett Funkhouser and Terry Towns.

Shine job

Cecil Jarvis of the Didsbury Lawn Bowling Club puts the finishing touches on his lawn bowls at the club greens last week. The club most recently won a challenge cup in a contest for the most wins against Red Deer teams. Four teams were responsible for the wins, skipped by Ted Topping, Murray McRae, Irvin Scott and Owen Clausten. The club is looking for new members and invites everyone to come learn the sport on Monday, Tuesday or Friday at 9:30 am or Wednesday and Thursday at 6:30 pm.

Mike Neal, match master, said there were three different styles of shoots - handgun, rifle, and shotgun. To enter the competition shoot, it cost $10 per shoot or $25 for all three. Out of the total of entries, 75 percent payout went as prize money. The top three placings/winners were as follows: 1st, Tony Hansen; 2nd, Mike Neal; 3rd, Dennis Combs.

If anyone is interested in obtaining more information in regards to the Association and their functions, please feel free to call 227-2944 or Mike Neal at 335-4676.

Recreation views

by Ken Luck

Great to be back after a two week break that included time spent at Kananaskis. While there, I had the opportunity to see and play the much talked about Kananaskis golf course. What a beautiful venue - but the cost play - ouch! It is really too bad considering the amount of Alberta tax dollars that went in to the development. I personally feel the cost to play has rendered the golf course exclusively for those only who can afford it. In reality I suppose every Albertan should be given the opportunity to play and enjoy it.

On Monday, August 16, Gatti Productions Inc. will feature "Circus Gatti" at the Didsbury Memorial Complex. There will be two (2) performances, one at 2 p.m. and another at 7 p.m. Tickets are available to be purchased at the Recreation Office, the Aquatic Centre or at the door. Great family entertainment that you won't want to miss.

It's hard to believe that the fall and winter season at the Didsbury Memorial Complex arena is but a short six weeks away. As a result the Didsbury and District Recreation and Culture Board is now accepting bookings for ice times for the arena for the upcoming season. Requests for ice times are asked to be submitted in writing to the Didsbury and District Recreation and Culture Board, P.O. Box 666, Didsbury, AB T0M 0W0. As follow-up an ice allocation meeting involving all user groups will be held on Tuesday, September 7, commencing at 7:30 p.m. in the lobby of the Complex arena. With the ice schedule being finalized at that time it is imperative that representatives from all ice user groups be in attendance. For more information contact the Recreation Board office at 335-8377.

While on the topic of fall programming, an event traditionally held in early fall is the annual Terry Fox Run. In Didsbury the event is scheduled for Sunday, September 19 commencing at 1 p.m. The run headquarters and starting area will be based out of the Memorial Complex vestibule. Under the capable direction of Brenda and Grant Hemming it will be an event you and family will not want to miss. Whether you bike, walk, run, jog or wheel let's help keep Terry's dream alive by playing our part.

Question of the week: What is Alberta's favorite physical activity? Answer: walking. In 1992 an estimated 2.16 million Albertans walked for pleasure and why not? Walking is simple, inexpensive, safe and versatile.

Reasons for walking - Walking is an adventure, especially outdoors in a natural setting where one's senses may take over. Walking allows one to think about enjoyable things and memories.

Walking is healthy. If you need a remedy for stress, walking may be it. It may help lower your blood pressure and cholesterol. As a virtually injury free activity, walking may provide therapy for injured muscles and troubled feelings. Walking keeps you flexible and strengthens your bones, muscles, tendons and ligaments that support joints. Strengthening your bones can help prevent and control osteoporosis. Walking also increases the body's demand for oxygen which makes the heart, lungs and muscles work more efficiently.

Next week: "Tips For Getting Started."

Grizzly PR

The Olds Grizzlys hockey club was on hand to promote the team last week during the Mountain View County Fair and to show off their Alberta Junior League trophy. The team is working to promote the Centennial Cup championships which will be played in Olds at the end of this hockey season.

National sewing contest invites entries

Crafts Plus Magazine invites Canadian sewers to "Stitch It Up" and enter the 1993 Crafts Plus Sewing Contest.

Over $10,000 in fabulous prizes will be awarded from BabyLock, Fabricland, Husqvarna-White, J & P Coats, Janome and Sylvia Design Sewing Furniture.

Sewers are invited to sew something for themselves, their homes, or as a gift from someone and enter their project to win one of five sewing machines, three sergers, four gift certificates, a sewing machine/serger cabinet, or one of six gift sets of notions.

The three categories are: Machine Heirloom Sewing, Machine Quilting and Decorative Machine Embellishment. Sewers may enter more than one category, but a project may only be submitted to one category. Judging will be based on overall appearance, use of technique, craftsmanship and originality.

Teen sewers will be judged separately and have prizes awarded in their own categories.

Crafts Plus Magazine is published by Camar Publications in Markham, Ontario and has 90,000 paid subscribers. The 1st annual contest was launched in 1992 and was welcomed by the sewing industry and sewers across Canada. Every bottle of Bacardi Amber rum still begins the way it did over 130 years ago.

Down where palm trees sway and sugar cane is still cut by hand, every drop of Bacardi amber rum has its beginnings. Just as it was in 1862, molasses made from pure sugar cane is first fermented and distilled. Then it is aged in oak barrels, and expertly blended to attain that smooth, full flavour that could only be Bacardi amber rum.

Native culture celebrated at festival

The International Native Arts Festival celebrates its fifth anniversary this year and promises to be bigger and better than ever. The 1993 show runs from August 14 to 22 with entertainment and events running daily from August 14 and the Art Show and Sale running from August 18 to 22, in the West Atrium of the Banker's Hall Complex, 315 - 8th Avenue S.W., Calgary.

Performances by native dancers, musicians and other performers will be at Banker's Hall, the Glenbow Museum and in and around tipis erected along Stephen Avenue Mall.

This year's theme is 'Healing', specifically on how artists heal themselves through their art. A significant feature on this will be a display entitled 'Creation in Captivity' highlighting art prepared by inmates ranging from paintings to traditional Native hangings. Traditional dance, literary readings, demonstrations of various art forms, (i.e. birch-bark biting), music and much, much more will be focused and art forms will be sculpture, oils and jewellery. A special display of Stoney art from the students of the Morley School will also be exhibited. Visitors can purchase many of the hundreds of beautiful handmade art directly from their makers.

Guests are also invited to attend several workshops featuring art demonstrations, symbolism in native art, culture and artifacts, healing circle, native family in transition and drum making. Be sure to check the schedule of events brochure.

Saturday, August 21st will be a spectacular evening of entertainment at the Glenbow Museum featuring a wide variety of Native performers from across the Americas dancing and singing together in a combined celebration of native culture and tradition. Tickets are $15 and includes a variety of traditional finger foods.

All other events, including access to the Festival's six tipis in the mall are free to the public.

A pictorial view of Didsbury

Well fed

Dennis Schmick and his family certainly won't go hungry after he won $250 in groceries from AG Foods in the Didsbury Aqua Jets Swim Club fundraising raffle. Schmick was congratulated on his win by AG's Al Schneider after filling his cart in the store.

The Didsbury Review is always looking for interesting stories and pictures from Didsbury and the surrounding area to use in our personality section.

If you have a story idea or interesting picture idea, please give us a call. We would be happy to hear from you.

Wonder mushroom

John and Mary Lee Kohut were amazed to find this mushroom growing under a May Day tree at their farm east of Didsbury. The couple measured the mushroom at 12 inches across and 9 inches high. A bit of research into species revealed it to be a Destroying Angel mushroom, of the poisonous variety.

ground and face painting area are bound to keep the kids occupied for the afternoon while the adults are taking in some fun of their own inside at the Community Centre. The casino inside runs from 12 noon to 12 midnight.

All that fun is bound to make you hungry which is why the Committee organized its Beef Barbeque at 6 p.m. to hit the spot. Barbequed beef, it turns out, has become quite a delicacy to Maddenites...you might say it's made them famous. "We served up our barbequed beef for 600 at the Western Breeders affair this July and they loved it...we've always received a lot of compliments on our beef," Estelle says. Concluding the event will be a concert and dance featuring the famous "Montika with a K".

THERE IS ONLY ONE ROUTE FOR THE SPACESHIP TO TAKE IN ORDER TO LAND ON THE MOON. CAN YOU FIND IT?

DID YOU KNOW?

THE WORD PLUMBER CAME FROM ONE OF THE MATERIALS THAT THEY USE — LEAD. THE LATIN WORD FOR LEAD IS "PLUMBUM" AND THE ROMANS USED LEAD PIPES FOR THEIR WATER SUPPLY AND DRAINAGE.

SKUNKS REPEL ATTACKERS BY SQUIRTING A HORRIBLE SMELLING LIQUID ON THEM. THIS DEFENSE MAY NOT DETER AN OWL, HOWEVER, BECAUSE THE OWL CAN POUNCE ON A SMALL SKUNK FASTER THAN THE SKUNK CAN SQUIRT.

FOR MANY YEARS, THE UNITED STATES WAS THE WORLD'S LARGEST AUTOMOBILE MANUFACTURER. BUT IN 1980, JAPAN TOOK THE LEAD.

Weather or not...

People love to talk about the weather. You're probably one of them. But there's more to the subject than just temperature and precipitation. Here are some interesting facts:

• Cloud nine: A cloudburst signifies large amounts of rain falling in a short time. (Clouds don't actually burst.)

• Rough winters: The winters of 1976-1978 brought arctic conditions and severe blizzards to the eastern U.S. In New York, more than 14 inches of snow fell in 24 hours!

• Presidential forecast: According to Naval Observatory records, Abraham Lincoln's inauguration ceremony back in the spring of 1861 was quite memorable. The wind gusted at 25 miles per hour, and clouds covered nine-tenths of the sky.
